FACTS ON MODERN FARMING

Farmers in Northern Illinois Raise Too Many Cheap Crops

SMALL PROFITS IN GRAIN

Some Interesting Figures Showing the Relative Value of Different Crops Raised

Northern Illinois farmers are probably as progressive as any to be found in the United States, and yet they are far from making the most of their opportunities.

There are too many cheap crops raised at the expense of more profitable ones. It is within the capacity of every farmer to make a comparison of profits, and such a comparison is startling. Why is it that many of the crops on which the most labor is expended return a profit of only $10 or $15 per acre, while others will net $50 to $200 per acre? There must be something wrong in the agricultural system, or this would not be the case.

It has been shown by competent authority that the grain crops of the country, involving great labor and investment, return the smallest profits of any. Wheat nets less than $10 per acre. In fact, many people agree that when the expense of equipment, the value of land, the cost of seed and the worth of the labor are considered, there is no profit whatever in raising wheat.

The American farmer, as a rule, does not count his own time, the value of his land nor the cost of horses and machinery in estimating his profits on grain. If he has a crop of 100 acres of wheat that will clear $500 for him after reckoning the value of seed, the cost of help and such expenses as threshing, he put it down as $500 profit, though he has put most of his year's time into it, besides maintaining the land and an equipment of horses and machinery worth several hundred dollars.

Corn is a little better, but the profit on this crop, as well as on dairying, is altogether too low. It is much under that on such products as onions, beans, hops, potatoes, sugar beets and the general run of fruits. It is apparent that the person of limited capital is best off on a small tract of land—20 to 50 acres—with as wide a diversity of interests as can be made. The following table, showing the relative value of crops, is based on practical knowledge:

Wheat, per acre, net.....	$10.00
Corn.....	20.00
Alfalfa.....	25.00
Timothy.....	15.00
Potatoes.....	100.00
Onions.....	150.00
Beans.....	100.00
Cucumbers.....	125.00
Strawberries.....	200.00
Sugar beets.....	60.00
Hops.....	125.00
Chittons.....	150.00
Cherries.....	100.00

The above are crop colors fully raised in this and other states. The figures fairly illustrate the point to be made, namely, that money is most easily made by people of limited means on little places and by intensive farming. People must get out of the old rut and pay more attention to modern methods. Every acre may be made to pay from $50 to $200. It is simply a waste of time to run farms on the basis of $10 to $20 an acre profit.

In this market there is a constant demand for fruit, vegetables, poultry and a variety of other articles that come under the head of light farming. Strawberries, raspberries and cherries are immensely profitable. They will pay anywhere from $50 to $200 per acre after deducting for the cost of labor in caring for and picking the fruit. Flowers pay equally well, or better. Such being the case, why should farmers work their lives out in lines of endeavor where the profits are $10 to $20 per acre?

OLD SOLDIER PASSES AWAY

James D. Soule Died on Sunday Morning at the Age of 69 Years

On Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Morley, at this place occurred the death of Mr. James Soule after a short illness caused by the general decline of advanced age. He had been in failing health for the past year or more but was confined to his bed only a little over a week, passing away Sunday morning, March 29, at the age of 69 years, 11 months and 17 days.

James Day Soule was born in Utica, N. Y., on the 12th day of April, 1838, and came with his parents to Grays Lake, Lake county, Illinois, when only two years of age. In the year 1860 he went north and located at Bloomer, Chippewa county, Wis., and at that place was united in marriage to Miss Matilda L. Tallman in the month of June, 1867, and to this union three children were born, two daughters, Mrs. J. J. Morley of this place, Mrs. Mildred Blunt of Chicago, and one son, Henry of South Range, Douglas county, Wis., all of whom survive him.

In the year 1893 he was called upon to mourn the loss of his life companion, and about two years ago he came to this place and since that time has made his home with his daughter.

In the passing away of Mr. Soule another old soldier has been taken from the ranks of the living. At the beginning of the civil war he enlisted in the 37th Ill. Regiment and served until the close.

On Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock burial services were held at the home after which the remains were taken on the evening train to Bloomer, Wis., where the funeral services will be held at his old home and the remains interred beside those of his wife.

DR. MAXFIELD FALLS DEAD IN OMNIBUS

At 11:30 Tuesday morning Chief of Police Tyrrell of Waukegan received a telegram from Chief of Detectives P. D. O'Brien of Chicago to the effect that Dr. Carl Maxfield, well known here as the trained nurse attending Granger Smith of Sheridan road, had been found dead in an omnibus in Chicago at 10:00 clock.

Dr. Maxfield stopped at 703 North Genesee street and is well known locally. Dr. Maxfield left Waukegan on the 8:28 after breakfast at Perrin's. He had complained of not feeling well and had talked of getting a cab to convey him to his home in Chicago which he afterward did.

He was warned by Dr. Barker, who resides at the same place, that he must be careful of his heart, but he was in no fear of a sudden death.

At the Northwestern depot Dr. Maxfield got into a Marshall Field & Company omnibus, intending to ride to town in it. On the way to the shopping district he was seen suddenly to fall forward, his head dropping onto his breast. One of the witnesses was Miss Clarke of Waukegan. She later telephoned to Mrs. Perrin.

Dr. Maxfield was at once removed to the undertaking rooms and his son and other relatives notified. He was 60 and resided with Mrs. Maxfield on the north side. His daughter had just recently got married to Prof. Barham of the Chicago University. His son is in the hat business.

The late physician had been with Granger Smith for five years and was well esteemed in Waukegan by a host of friends.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A POPULAR AND MODERN SERMON

The preacher, like the editor, sees the wisdom of giving the people what they want. Sermons must please in order to be heard, and the preacher who can best please has the largest congregation.

For this reason clergymen, as well as laymen, will be interested in a consensus of opinions on the kind of sermon people like to hear, drawn from a great number of laymen by the London Sunday-School Times.

Opinions differed in minor respects, but all united in saying that the good sermon must be in the language of common life, and that it must be one which shows men their temptations and how to overcome them, which inspires men to trust God in the midst of business anxieties, which sustains them in the dark hours of adversity, loss and bereavement, which increases their confidence in the triumph of righteousness over evil in this world, and which opens before them a vision of future blessedness with God in eternal joy and harmony with him.

In other words, what people want to hear are words of encouragement, and the most successful preacher is he who can impart most cheer. This may explain the rapid growth of Christian Science, which does not insult other churches by saying that evil will be remedied hereafter, but teaches that evil does not exist now.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. CHRISTIAN SELTER

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. Christian Selter at the home of her son, Robert Selter, at Grays Lake.

Her death came as a severe shock to her family and friends, coming as it did so unexpectedly and following an illness of only three days, which at no time had seemed at all serious or had appeared to be more than a slight cold and a light attack of asthma. Just two weeks previous she had returned from a winter's stay in Oklahoma and had seemed to be in as good health as usual.

On Monday she complained of feeling ill although Tuesday she was able to spend a part of the day with the family, but on Wednesday afternoon her son seeing that she was not improving as he wished summoned a physician, even then having no thought that anything serious would develop. During the early part of the evening those about her noticed a change for the worse and even as they realized it she quietly passed away, heart failure being the cause of her demise.

Miss Minna Tielia was born at Madeburg, Germany, on July 9, 1835, and was united in marriage to Christian Selter in the year 1853. In 1865 Mr. and Mrs. Selter with their four children came to America and settled in Chicago. There they resided for four years and in 1869 left the city and located on a farm at Grays Lake, Ill., which place has been her home ever since.

She had been a member of the German Lutheran church since early childhood and was a strong believer in the faith, always living an honest, upright Christian life that endeared her to all who knew her.

She leaves to mourn her loss five children, four daughters, Mrs. Amelia Herman of Lawton, Oklahoma, Mrs. Bertha Lux and Mrs. Nettie Taylor of Wadsworth, Mrs. Minnie Lux of Antioch, and one son Robert of Grays Lake, the two latter being the only ones who were privileged to be with her in her last illness, besides a number of grandchildren and a large circle of friends and acquaintances who sincerely mourn her death.

The funeral will be held at the home of her son at 2:00 on Saturday afternoon and the remains will be interred in the family lot in the Grays Lake cemetery by the side of her husband, who preceded her to the land of rest some four years ago.

DOW WILL FILE

W. H. Dow of Waukegan Left Estate Estimated at $65,000

CHURCH BEQUEATHED $100

Will Was Drawn in 1906—Leaves Two Requests to Relatives Living Out of Waukegan

The will of the late William H. Dow of Waukegan, filed in county court on Monday, shows an estimated valuation of $25,000 real estate and $40,000 personal.

Mr. Dow bequeaths his property, real and personal, to his wife, Armilla M. Dow and his heirs, which include four children, Robert, Mrs. Grace Boutwell, Frank and Mrs. Ruth Wright, the latter of Milwaukee.

However, in the above he does not include the stock in the Dow Manufacturing Co., of which he owned the big majority. With reference to this stock, he bequeaths one-third to Mrs. Dow and one-sixth to each of his children.

He provides that, from the earnings of the company, within a year after his demise shall be paid the following bequests: $500 to Gardner W. Dow; $100 to Alice F. Flagg, the latter of Burlington, Vt.; $100 to the First Congregational church of Waukegan, of which for years he was superintendent.

The rest of his property he bequeaths to his wife with the wish that she make a will at once and that the property which may be in her name at the time of her demise be left in equal shares to her children, in case any of them should have died, then their share shall go to their children.

The will was drawn Dec. 29th, 1906, and C. T. and Coral Heydecker are the witnesses.

Mrs. Dow was named executrix without bond. While the estimated valuation of the estate is shown to be $65,000, it is believed at the court house this amount does not cover all the property and that Mr. Dow was worth close to $100,000, in real estate and personal property. Considering that he had practically nothing about twenty years ago, his acquirement of property shows with what application he attended to his business.

DEATH ENTERS HOME FOR THE SECOND TIME

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bown were again called upon to mourn the loss of one of their little ones, when on Sunday morning of this week their only daughter, Hazel, about one and a half years of age succumbed to the effects of scarlet fever after a long and hard fought battle with the disease.

While Mr. and Mrs. Bown were on their return trip from England a number of weeks ago their two youngest children were taken ill with the measles. As soon as they landed in New York Mrs. Bown and the two children were placed in a hospital, where it was soon discovered that scarlet fever had also developed. The little boy, about three years of age, was also stricken with pneumonia, and unable to stand the ravages of the disease, he passed away at the New York hospital March 2, and Mr. Bown, who had been recalled to the hospital on account of the little one's serious illness, brought the remains to this place where they were interred in the Hillside cemetery.

At that time strong hopes were entertained for the recovery of the little girl, and when a little over two weeks ago she was able to leave the hospital and Mrs. Bown returned to their home here it was with the thought that ere long the child would be as well as ever.

To all appearances she was steadily gaining until Saturday night when she suddenly became worse and passed away within a few hours.

This death comes as a double affliction to the sorrowing parents who have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The funeral services were held at the home south of town Tuesday afternoon.

Prudence.
"Why did you hit that boy when he was down?" asked the gray-bearded man. "Don't you know that was a cowardly thing to do?"
"It wasn't cowardly; it was just prudent," replied the boy who had delivered the blow. "He was down because he slipped, and I was afraid he might not stop in the same place again if I let him get up."

TRAMP DEMANDS MONEY

Enters Grocery Store in Waukegan and Asks for Carfare to Racine

Entering the grocery store and meat market of Charles Petkus on Belvidere street, Waukegan, last Saturday night about eight o'clock, a tramp made a rather insistent demand that he be given enough money to return to Racine which he claimed as his home. He also asked for food. Both were refused him and he was later forcefully ejected from the store. A wild rumor had it that Mr. Petkus had been held up and robbed of $50. Investigation showed that it was nothing more serious than before stated.

Mr. Petkus was rather busy last Saturday night when the tramp, who was a rather decrepit and desperate looking character entered the store. Walking up to Mr. Petkus he told him that he had become stranded in Waukegan and that he wanted something to eat and enough money to pay his fare back to Racine. Mr. Petkus told him that he was too busy to bother with him and had no money for him.

He became rather insistent and one of the clerks stepped to the telephone and summoned the police. The tramp must have devised his purpose for before the officer arrived he slipped out of the store. The officer could find no trace of him.

He must have been in hiding near by, however, for the policeman had hardly gone when the man returned and reiterated his persistent demands. When told that Mr. Petkus had nothing for him he asked if he would not give him ten cents. By this time the proprietor was becoming tired of the affair and the tramp was thrown into the street.

Later it was said that he stole a pair of shoes some place and sold them for fifty cents. The latter statement could not be confirmed.

IMPROVEMENTS SUSPENDED IN WAUKEGAN

Public improvements and changes in the city of Waukegan are being held up pending the outcome of the local option election April 7. This is the statement of an alderman who knows from his position on the board of local improvements and on important committees.

Paving, water mains, drainage, cement walks, all are held up while the period of stress is on, as I have said, and while the city board of local improvements last fall planned to pass all its ordinances, get them through court and do a full season's work in actual construction, this program has been abandoned and this year's work, if there is any, will be begun even later than usual and will continue from July to November.

Meanwhile, there is a suspension of activity on the part of the board, which asserts that if the city is going dry there is no use in passing ordinances. The expense of the transmittal of which through the court can not be met through a depleted treasury.

The city is, however, hit in a more vital spot by the fact that until it is decided whether the city will remain wet or not the aldermanic committee has refused to act on the south side fire department, which could not be supported if the city went dry.

New York Preacher's Novel Scheme to Draw Congregation

A preacher in a college town in New York state recently decided that the best way to increase the attendance at his church was to advertise. So he took up a part of the paper in his town with a small display got up not unlike a theater advertisement.

"How long since you have been to church?" was the first line in black ink. "Better go to-morrow," was the next line. "Try the First," continued the advertisement, mentioning the name of a denomination that is not essential in the context.

Then followed the subjects for the morning and evening sermons. The pastor had designated for the evening sermon, "Boysville," and he invited for the purpose of hearing what he had to say "All boys, all who once were boys, who dislike boys and all who like them."

COMMIT DARING ROBBERY

I. R. Graves, a Waukegan Piano Salesman Held Up By Two Thugs

ROBBED OF A $10 BILL

Robbers Run Towards Market Street and May Have Concealed Themselves in Northwestern Yards

I. R. Graves of 315 South Sheridan road, was held up at 10:30 Friday night on Lake near Genesee street, Waukegan, within two blocks of his residence and robbed of $10.

Mr. Graves is a piano solicitor and collector for Alden, Biding & Co. He had been down to a tobacco store to get some smoking tobacco and was on his way home when the holdup took place.

Features of the daring robbery were the fact that two men did the job, one holding a revolver to Graves' face and the other searching his pockets by reaching around his person from the rear.

Mr. Graves was walking along Lake street toward his home, after leaving the tobacco store, when suddenly out of a small alleyway near the Hangebrauck residence the two robbers sprang.

One, a stout, rather tall man, held a revolver in his hand and getting in front of Graves he leveled it as he shouted, "Hands up!"

Graves was unarmed and totally unprepared, so he did as he was ordered, although a husky specimen of manhood, capable of putting up a strenuous fight.

"I have no money," he said when the two holdups demanded what cash he had.

At this moment the shorter and slighter of the two robbers who had thus far taken no part, stepped out of the shadows and going behind Mr. Graves, put his arms about his waist from the rear and went through his pockets.

He got a $10 bill, $5 of which belonged to Graves and $5 to his firm.

Graves was then seized and violently aroused by the robber scooped off down Lake street toward street before he could recover his balance.

Graves at once came down town sought a police officer. Not finding one he went to Cliffe's saloon and telephoned the robbery into the station there.

"I might not positively identify the men now if they were before me," said Mr. Graves, "but I suspect one man and have put the police onto him."

He followed traces of the robbers clear to Market street and thinks they took to the Northwestern and left him "tricks" afterward, thus shaking him off. The police took up the chase without avail.

MRS. SARAH SIVER DIED AT KENOSHA ON TUESDAY

At the home of her son in Kenosha, Wis., on Tuesday, March 31, occurred the death of Mrs. Sarah Siver, a former resident of this vicinity who was well and favorably known throughout the community, her death being caused by general debility.

For many years Mrs. Siver lived on a farm east of town but for the past few years has made her home with her son, Rockwell, at Grayslake and Kenosha. She was born in Pennsylvania July 30, 1845, and passed away in Kenosha on Tuesday, March 31, being 62 years, 8 months and 1 day at the time of her death.

She leaves to mourn her loss one son and one granddaughter.

The remains were brought to this place on the 10:35 train Thursday morning where the funeral services were held in the Methodist church, Rev. F. R. McNamier officiating. The remains were interred in the Antioch Hillside cemetery.

The Rift in the Cloud.

It was toward the end of the noon hour, and one of the clerks stopped to chat with the telephone operator before going back to his ledger.

"Have you noticed," he inquired, "how the price of everything is going up nowadays?"

"Have I?" sympathized the girl at the switchboard.

"Terrible, isn't it? Now they have even raised the price of milk. Next thing we'll have to pay a dime to ride on the street cars."

The girl sighed with apprehension. "Well," said she, "it's dreadful, but as long as chewing gum remains the same I suppose I can exist!"

Mr. Barnes, American

By Archibald Clavering Gunter
A Sequel to
Mr. Barnes of New York

Author of "Mr. Barnes of New York,"
"Mr. Potter of Texas,"
"That Frenchman," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, Dodd Mead & Co., N. Y.

SYNOPSIS.

Burton H. Barnes, a wealthy American touring Corsica, rescues the young English lieutenant, Edward Gerard Anstruther, and his Corsican bride, Marina, daughter of the Paolis, from the murderous vendetta, understanding that his reward is to be the hand of the girl he loves. End Anstruther's sister, the French lieutenant, the four fly from Ajaccio to Morselles on board the French steamer Constantine. The vendetta pursues and as the quartet are about to board the train for London at Morselles, Marina is handed a mysterious note which causes her to collapse and necessitates a postponement of the journey. Barnes gets part of the mysterious note and receives letters which inform him that he is marked by the vendetta. He employs an American detective and plans to beat the vendetta at their own game. For the purpose of securing the safety of the women Barnes arranges to have Lady Charlotte issue a second villa at Nice to which the party is to be taken in a yacht. Suspicion is created that Marina is in league with the Corsicans. A man believed to be Corcoran, Darrall, is seen passing the house and Marina is thought to have given him a sign. Marina refuses to explain to Barnes which fact adds to his latest suspicion. Barnes plans for the safety of the party are learned by the Corsicans. The carriage carrying their party to the local landing is followed by two men. One of the horsemen is supposed to be Corcoran. They try to force the party to land. The cook on the yacht—Frenchman—is suspected of complicity in the plot. The party anchors at St. Tropez. The yacht is followed by a small boat. The Corsicans detected giving signals to the boat. Barnes attempts to throw him overboard, but is prevented by Marina and End. The cook is found to be innocent of the supposed plot and is forgiven. The party arrive at Nice and find Lady Charlotte and her daughter. Marina's villa is found to be a trap. Barnes is amazed to find that Count Corcoran is at Nice and is acting the role of a friend to Lady Charlotte. Barnes and End make arrangements for their marriage. The net tightens about Barnes. He receives a note from La Belle Blackwood, the American adventuress. Barnes hears that Elijah Emory, his detective, has been murdered by the Corsicans. He learns that the man supposed to be Corcoran, who followed the party on their way to the boat, was killed. A party of the count, and that Count Corcoran had been in Nice for some time prior to the party's arrival. The count warns Barnes not to marry End unless he would have her also involved in the murder. Barnes and End are married. Soon after their wedding Barnes' bride disappears. Barnes discovers she has been kidnapped and taken to Corsica. The groom secures a fishing vessel and is about to start in pursuit of his bride's captors when he hears a scream from the villa and rushes back to hear that Anstruther's wife, Marina, is also missing.

But the other breaks in: "She is helpless in that devil's hands, who's tricked us both. This man means to kill her!"

"Not as you fear," mutters Barnes. "Circumstances came here, in his mind some infamous plot against your life and hers, but now I think the same crazy passion for Marina that was in his brother has entered him. Never did your wife look more lovely than when she so nobly offered to go to Corsica to try and bring your sister back."

"Bring my sister back? That's why she's gone," asserts Anstruther. "Do you suppose any other consideration would have induced her to leave me? She thinks her word is potent among the friends of her childhood in Bocognano. Marina is going to Corsica, Barnes, and I go with you. The vessel is there—come!" Anstruther's rapid strides are carrying him to the door of the hallway, but the American's voice stays him.

"She will never get to Corsica," says Barnes, sadly.

"Why not?"

"Why not? Danella longs for her. Couldn't you see his uncanny passion gradually growing as he looked upon her loveliness? No, she will not be permitted to get very far away from him. Don't you suppose his omens are alert now—the man with the scar over his eye that delivered this dastard note to her?" Then the tone of the American changes; he says very solemnly: "And yet, I think you can thank God that the passion of the lover has entered this devil's heart and taken the passion of the assassin from it; for otherwise, with his thug about her, your wife would now be dead. You stay here and try and find Marina. As for me, my duty is to go to that island and if she is living, to bring back my bride—if she is dead, avenge her!" continues Burton.

"That is my duty here, rescue or avenge Marina!" cries the Englishman.

Barnes leaves his brother-in-law arming himself and making ready to go out of the villa in pursuit of the loved one he has lost, and hurries down the path to the water. The darkness is now so great he can scarcely discern the little fishing vessel still tied up to the landing stage. He rapidly springs over her low freeboard, and calls: "Get under way!" The alert Graham is already at her helm; her big lateen sails are hoisted flapping in the soft air, and a moment later under a smart breeze the little craft is gliding toward the entrance of the Bay of Villefranche.

The illuminations of Nice fade away in the darkness of the night to the American upon the deck of the fishing vessel, which now, under a fresh and increasing breeze, is bounding through the water.

Graham is still at the wheel, Barnes pacing the little deck of the silent craft. His steady eyes peer into the gloomy blank ahead of him. His life seems a blank also. To-night he had expected the loveliest eyes of his fairy bride to be beside him on a honeymoon cruise. Now! He smiles his hands despairingly together.

He turns to Graham at the wheel and asks: "How long before we reach Corsica?"

"With this breeze, I don't think before early to-morrow."

"You are carrying all the sail possible?"

"Every cloth she has."

Barnes turns to sleep into the cabin. "You're going down to try and get a wee bit o' sleep, I hope," remarks the Scotch mate sympathetically.

"Sleep?" the American laughs as if in mockery of the idea, yet goes below and tries to force his mind to the common sense of this strange abduction.

The next morning with the first rays of the sun, Barnes is on deck again, peering toward the east, and before him is a blue haze that Graham, who is again at the wheel, says is Corsica.

But now some few feet from the stem of the little vessel, a figure that has been crouching under the low bul-

"Pleased to See You Aboard, Ma'am."

warks, rises, half-shrouded by the sea fog, before him. After two glances to make his astounded eyes believe, he gasps: "Marina!"

For the wife of Anstruther, with some wraps thrown over her feet, stands before him, the fresh breeze twining the garments about her figure till she seems risen from the mists of the morning.

"My God, why have you come here?"

"To try and save your wife, the sister of my husband!" cries the Corsican girl. "You couldn't have done it. You know too little of this curious island and its customs. To you, a stranger, every one of that jealous, suspicious race would be an enemy—to me, born with them—the name of my family adored—some will be friends. You would surely fall, I may succeed!"

"You should have told your sister."

"The American's voice is almost stern.

"I dared not! Edwin would not have let me go. My darling values me too highly to risk a hair of my head on such a venture," answers the Corsican bride proudly.

"Why didn't you tell me when I came on board? You lay here unharmed all night save by the bulwarks," utters Burton sympathetically.

"The night was warm; the wind, though strong, was balmy. Besides, I waited till you were near enough to Corsica not to turn back from it, even to restore me to my husband. There is the island. There I will help you find your bride. End shall not die nor suffer because she is the sister of my husband or because she is your wife."

"Great Scott, you're the Marina of old!" he exclaims in astonished admiration.

"Of course I am," she answers buoyantly. "My darling husband is for the moment safe. Their letter which branded me as traitor to my race for marrying Edwin, says if I desert my husband they will spare him. Corsicans keep their devilish promises. These assassins will think I have abandoned the husband of my heart and will spare him till I return to again nestle in his arms and shield him with my very life against these fiends of the blood feud."

BOOK THREE.

CHAPTER XI.

"Beware the Path Ahead of You!"

The American paces the deck more buoyantly; reflection shows him what a prodigious aid Marina's knowledge of her native island, its proud, vengeful race and curious customs, will be to him in his search for his lost bride.

The mists of the morning are slowly rising from the bluff headlands of Capo Rosso; before the vessel's bow rises the old Genoese watch tower that guards the little harbor of Porto, from which is shipped the pine timber of the great Valdonella forest.

The alert Graham, who has gazed from the stern astounded at the sudden appearance of Mrs. Anstruther on board his craft, leaving the wheel to a jack tar, now comes forward and touching his hat to the lady, says: "Pleased to see you on board, ma'am, though I'm afraid, Mr. Barnes, you'll not think we kept a very good watch on deck. Our eyes were always on the sea, trying to catch sight of the damned pirates." A moment later, he remarks: "With this wind, we can make the coast a wee bit farther to the south."

"Then do so!" commands Marina.

"Make a landing, if you can, nearly 15 miles below here at Sagone."

"Why?" asked Barnes, some surprise in his tone.

"Sagone by its mountain path is the nearest port to Bocognano. They dare never convey your wife through Ajaccio. By the wild mountain paths they can take End to Bocognano unobserved and unquestioned by the wood cutters of the forest glens or the shepherds of the steep pastures of Del Oro."

"You think the Seagull will be at Sagone?"

"I hope so," answers the girl. "That will be proof that they are taking her to Bocognano."

By Barnes' direction Graham immediately alters the course of the vessel further to the south, and they dash down the picturesque coast of the island, whose forest clad mountains run to the very waters of the sea, till they weather the point of Cargese and open the beautiful Gulf of Sagone, now calm as a summer lake.

Here, to the east, in the far recesses of the bay, is a tall gleaming white under the sun that has just risen over the wooded headlands.

Barnes puts his field glasses upon it and for a moment thinks it some fishing craft, but the Scotch mate leaving the wheel to a seaman's hands, springs forward; takes a long look at it; then borrows the American's glasses and runs nimbly up the rigging to the top of the mast.

From his lofty post he calls excitedly: "By St. Andrew, it's the Seagull!"

"Can End be on board of her?" is heard in Marina's anxious voice.

"I can not believe it," answers Graham, as he descends to the deck, "for the vessel is anchored."

"For God's sake, get us to the yacht!" commands the American.

But despite every exertion, for the breeze has died with the rising sun, it is another hour before they see the vessel near the Seagull. Upon its deck is a solitary man, who frantically screams to them: "A moi, mes amis! Rescue me! Serez vous, ze pirate cochons have left me. I am Leboeuf, ze cook!"

"Take heart; we'll hoard ye, braw Leboeuf!" shouts Graham, and carefully conveys the Scotch mate, the fishing vessel is run alongside of the Seagull. The light swell permits them to spring from one little craft to the other, and in a moment Barnes has assisted Marina onto the yacht's deck.

Here they are met by voluble exclamations and explanations, from Monsieur Leboeuf. "Monsieur Barnes," he cries sympathetically, "ze pirates have carried your bride away. Ze boarded me at ze moment I was placing your supper on ze cabin table last evening. Ze zey gagged me till I could not speak. One—two—three minutes and she came on board in ze blackness. Expecting to meet you, Madame Barnes ran down into ze cabin, and zen—"

"Then?" Barnes' face is set like that of a statue.

"Zen zey locked ze cabin door upon Madame, and though she cry out, pay no more attention to her till zey had got under way. Zen—zen—"

"What next?" Burton's voice is hoarse.

"Attirez zai, zoy come to me and say: 'No harm to you. Cook us a good meal, and one young man, handsome-faced, bright-eyed, well-dressed gallant, he gave me a lous and said: 'Feed us well but feed us on deck. We are gentlemen; we do not intrude upon a lady.' Zen I give zem, mon Dieu, ze beautiful meal I have prepared for you. Ah, how ze pirates ate it!"

The schoolmaster was trying to teach his class composition, and he was having great difficulty. Said he: "If I should ask, 'What have I in my hand?' the answer should be, 'You have an apple in your hand.' Now, suppose I should ask, 'What have I on my feet?' what should you say?"

"Shoes," was the first reply. "Stockings," replied another boy. "No," said the teacher impatiently, "both of you are wrong. Remember what I have just said. For a moment no one seemed anxious to try to answer the question; but at last a lad raised his hand with no air which said quite plainly that he was perfectly sure of his knowledge. "Cornstarch!" he shouted triumphantly.

Why Hasn't He Drink Milk.

My son, who is a little over two years of age, has always disliked to drink milk, says a writer in the New York World. I have repeatedly told him that to be a strong and healthy boy, he should always drink milk. While visiting a neighbor with me one day he saw a little boy who was a cripple and could not walk.

More Light Needed.

People are now demanding more powerful lights, using 30 candlepower electric lamps where a few years back they would have been content with eight. The reason appears to be that the pall over our towns is increasing in general intensity, though actual fogs are fewer. Hence more and more lights are being fitted in dark corners.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE STATE.

DREDGE WATCH DROWNS

Body of Charles Harrison Is Found in Ditch Near Greenville—Gone Three Days.

Greenville.—The body of Charles Harrison, 20 years old, an employee of the Devault dredge boat, who had been missing three days, was found the other morning in a dredged ditch on the farm of Mrs. Jessie Hubby, seven miles northeast of this city. There were no marks of violence on the body and as the young man had been subject to heart disease it is supposed that he fell off the boat and was drowned. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

BANKER ROBBED OF $5,000.

Bold Crime Committed in Daylight at Lincoln.

Lincoln.—Frank Froerer, president of a Lincoln bank, and owner of the Lincoln Mining company, was held up by highwaymen in Lincoln and robbed of $5,000—the monthly pay roll of the company. Three men did the work and two of them were caught, but the third escaped with the money after a running fight with the police and deputy sheriffs. The robbery occurred within two blocks of the public square. Froerer was on the way to the mine in a light wagon carrying two satchels containing the money in small amounts already counted for the miners. He was stopped on the street by three men in a buggy and two of these got out of the buggy and, jumping into Froerer's rig, quickly bore him to the ground and grabbed the satchels, threw him into the buggy, jumped in and started out of the city at a fast clip. Froerer, who was not seriously injured, returned to the office and notified the officials. The sheriff and eight captains of police started at once and pursued the robbers two miles, at which point two men left the buggy and took to the cornfields. After a short time they were discovered and a duel began. Five shots were fired before the two surrendered, but neither was injured.

LELAND PREY OF FLAMES.

Famous Hostelry in Springfield Partly Burned.

Springfield.—The Leland hotel, one of the most widely known hotels in the country, and which has been the center at political gatherings for the last 30 years, was severely damaged by fire Thursday, entailing a loss on the proprietors, the Wiggins estate, of about $75,000. The fire broke out while the Republican state convention was in session, three squares away, and when the delegates received word that the hotel was burning they leaped from their chairs, tore wildly for the doors and hastened to save their effects. No lives were lost, nor was any person injured.

Adjust Suit at Havana.

Havana.—After a short conference Edward Olli, police magistrate, threw the case of the Schiltz Brewing company, by J. Davis of Springfield vs. Herman Roemer, a saloonkeeper at Havana, out of court. Davis claimed Roemer owed the brewing company a sum of money. Roemer claimed the brewing company owed him a larger sum, thereby offsetting his indebtedness. An agreement was reached.

Boy Found in Hog Pen.

Decatur.—Believing that his two-year-old son had been kidnapped and was being held for ransom, Charles Dulick, a farmer living near Tower Hill, notified the Roy Bandure detective agency in this city and asked that a bloodhound be sent to the scene at once. Before the dog arrived the child was found in the hog pen on the Dulick farm, playing with the hogs.

Frank Causes Big Fire.

Winchester.—A careless Frank of night marauders resulted in much damage by fire to the home of M. W. Sappington on Depot street. The fine residence was partially destroyed.

Meet at Social; Marry.

Greenview.—A courtship of six weeks' duration which originated at a church social culminated in the marriage of Miss Marion Stewart to Herbert Austill.

Charge Boys with Burglary.

Taylorville.—Newton Martin and John Poinier of Edinburg were brought to Taylorville and lodged in jail on a charge of burglary.

Deserter Arrested.

Beardstown.—L. M. Brewer of Mantoloking, a deserter from the coast artillery, was arrested here by the chief of police.

March Against Liquor.

Decatur.—Women and children marching the streets bearing banners and transparencies with the legends, "Vote Yes," "Please Protect Us," probably will be one of the ante-election features, if plans now considered are carried out.

Burglars Visit Meat Market.

Owosso.—Burglars broke into the meat market of Hamilton & Robinson by prying open a window and stole three pigs, a shotgun, a rifle and a revolver. No money or meat was taken.

WORKS FOR CIVIC PRIDE.

Excellent Scheme Devised by Merchants of Western City.

A new scheme for arousing local pride is being worked in an enterprising western city. The plan in brief is, instead of attempting to vitalize the civic spirit of the whole community, to organize clubs in different localities and to clean up and light up certain sections, without regard to what may be done elsewhere. For instance, a club is organized in a single block, and merchants on each side of the street are persuaded to join. If it is desired to make the block brilliant with light at night an investigation is had to see how it can be done, how much it will cost and what it is worth. The plan has worked so successfully that organizations are springing up all over the same city to devote their attention to cleaning or lighting a certain restricted territory. It is much easier to secure co-operation between 20 merchants than between 200, and the influence of the few spreads in a widening circle.—Baltimore News.

LANGUID AND WEAK.

A Condition Common with Kidney Trouble and Backache.

Mrs. Marlo Sipple, 416 Miller St., Helena, Mont., says: "Three years ago my back grew weak and lame and I could not stoop without a sharp pain. It was just as bad when I tried to get up from a chair. I was languid and listless and had much pain and trouble with the kidney secretions. This was my state when I began with Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me from the first and four boxes made a complete, lasting cure."

PRESCRIBED CUTICURA

After Other Treatment Failed—Raw Eczema on Baby's Face Had Lasted Three Months—At Last Doctor Found Cure.

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema on his face when one month old. One place on the side of his face the size of a nickel was raw like beefsteak for three months, and he would cry out when I bathed the parts that were sore and broken out. I gave him three months' treatment from a good doctor, but at the end of that time the child was no better. Then my doctor recommended Cuticura. After using a cake of Cuticura Soap, a third of a box of Cuticura Ointment, and half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent he was well and his face was as smooth as any baby's. He is now two years and a half old and no eczema has reappeared. Mrs. M. L. Harris, Alton, Kan., May 14 and June 12, 1907."

The Spring Opening.

The dazzling creation of birds and wire in the millinery department was marked $15.

The circle of shoppers gazed in envy but not one stirred.

Suddenly the clerk reversed the card and displayed the figures $14.49.

Then there was a small riot. Shoppers fought like amazons to reach the counter.

"Ah," laughed the tall floorwalker, "those ladies remind me of olden knights."

"In what way?" asked the meek man who was waiting for his wife to emerge from the crush.

"Why, they fight at the drop of a hat."

And before the meek man could appreciate the point of the joke his wife came out minus a comb and two locks of hair.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane of the tube in the throat, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is often but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by Catarrh that cannot be cured by local Catarrh Ointment. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. A Popular Game.

"Where have you been this evening?" asked O'Reilly of O'Tool.

"Sure, I have been playing 'Bridget whist,'" said O'Tool.

"Bridget whist? an' how do you play that?"

"I sit in the kitchen wld Bridget, an' ate pie an' cake an' chicken, an' while Bridget hears the misseus comin' she says 'whist!'"

The shortest and the surest way to prove a work possible is strenuously in set about it; and no wonder if that proves it possible, that for the most part makes it so.—South.

BUT WAS IT THE SAME MELON?

Paper Carried by Darky Amounted Almost to Perpetual Permit.

"A negro just loves a watermelon," said Representative Johnson of South Carolina. "Strange, too, that when a policeman sees a negro with a melon at an unreasonable hour he has it right down that the darky has stolen that watermelon. I heard a story about a policeman who met a negro in the early hours of the morning, and he had a big melon on his shoulder."

"I see you have a melon there?"

"Yes, sah," answered the darky. "Tso got melon; but I see fixed for you, sah, and pulling out a paper he handed it to the officer, who read: 'This bearer of this is O. K. He paid me ten cents for the melon, and he is a pillar in the church.' James Elder."

"You are fixed," said the officer. "Dat's what I lowed," answered the negro, and he moved on.—Washington Herald.

NEURALGIA

The real meaning of the word Neuralgia is nerve-pain, and any one who has suffered with the malady will not be so anxious to know of its nature as to hear of its cure. Though scarcely recognized by the profession and people half a century ago, it is now one of the most common and painful ailments which afflict humanity. As now generally understood, the word signifies an affection of the nervous system, with pain in the course of the principal nerves.

The two great causes of Neuralgia are, impoverishment of the Blood and Deficiency of Nerve Force; and the treatment of it is not so obscure as many would be led to suppose. The first thing is to relieve the pain, which is done more quickly and satisfactorily by ST. JACOBS OIL than by any other remedy known; the second object is to remove the cause, which is accomplished by the abundant use of nourishing food, of a nature to strengthen and give tone to both the muscular and nervous systems.

One Thing Lacking.

Dressed in the latest and most approved motor-cycling costume, with goggles all complete, the motorcyclist gayly foot-tooted his way by Regatta park towards the zoo. Suddenly he slackened, dismounted, and said to a small, grubby urchin:

"I say, my boy, am I right for the zoo?"

The boy gasped at so strange a sight, and thought it must be some new animal for the gardens.

"You may be all right if they have a spare cage," he said, when he could find his tongue, "but you'd had stood a far better chance if you'd had a tail!"—London Answers.

Discomforting.

It was Washington's birthday and the minister was making a patriotic speech to the children of the secondary grade.

"Now, children," he said, "when I arose this morning the flags were waving and the houses were draped with bunting. What was that done for?"

"Washington's birthday," answered a youngster.

"Yes," said the minister, "but last month I, too, had a birthday, but no flags were flying that day and you did not even know I had a birthday. Why was that?"

"Because," said an urchin, "Washington never told a lie."

This is undoubtedly a dirty-looking old world to the man who is too lazy to clean his spectacles.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Uncle Sam's armada is a success," says a contemporary "and all the more because its mission is friendly to all nations." Quite true. Perhaps, however, the target practice record at Magdalena Bay showing how we could behave if we got angry is contributory to that success.

We are informed, not officially, however, that a reorganization of the navy yards of the country is in progress which promises to save millions of dollars to the tax payers. We can only hope that this rumor is true and that something is being done to correct the extravagance and to introduce economies in the yards which will place them in private ship-building establishments.

A welcome first step toward strengthening the American merchant marine and creating an adequate naval reserve to be drawn on in time of war, has been taken by the United States Senate in the passage of the bill amending and extending the postal subvention law of 1891. And the fact that this step was taken without precipitating a division on party lines in the senate made it all the more welcome.

The labor unions should ponder well on the course of their leaders who have declined to be satisfied with "the square deal" which President Roosevelt was prepared to ask congress to grant them. They will find it difficult to convince reasonable people that they are not unreasonable when they quarrel with the President and insist upon more than he can consistently and conscientiously ask in their behalf.

The President has sent to congress a message defining his legislative programme and urging its prompt enactment into law. This programme is the product of various conferences at the White House in which the President has been put in possession of the views of all the interests concerned and has had made known to him the attitude of the leaders in both houses of congress. It includes: a declaration in favor of a revision of the tariff; an amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law; limitation of the powers of certain courts in the use of the injunction in labor disputes; passage of an employers' liability bill; passage of the Aldrich financial bill. Certainly each one of the five measures embraced in this message involves perplexing difficulties and will have an effect far-reaching on the business and economic conditions of the country.

An Early Coin Sweater.

"Coin sweating" which so often figures in the Old Bailey calendar, is a very, very old crime. More than six centuries before Christ there was a coin sweater, one Alexander of Byzantium.

He was the chief officer of the public treasury, and he amassed an immense and sudden fortune by "clipping" the money in so skillful a manner that his frauds could only be discovered by weighing.

The Byzantines gave him the nickname of "The Flea" from his making such dextrous use of that tool. Whence probably comes the modern term of "flea" applied to thieves, pickpockets and cunning, hard-headed scoundrels. —Pearson's Weekly.

Dea n Was On His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, Skippers, of Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. His wife: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Bitter Truth.

Diogenes slowly entered the pawnshop and placed his lantern on the counter.

"What can I get for this?" he asked. The pawnbroker picked up the lantern and examined it curiously.

"Rather antique pattern," he commented. "What do you consider it worth?"

Diogenes bowed his head, the humiliation of centuries upon him. "Nothing," he bitterly admitted. "Nothing at all."—Bohemian.

A Twenty Year Sentence.

"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes U. S. Woolver, of LeRaysville, N. Y. Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c. at J. H. Swan's drug store.

Some Weather Wisdom.

Red skies at sunset indicate fine weather, a bright yellow sky in the early evening denotes wind, a red sky in the morning betokens bad weather. Small, dark clouds foretell rain; generally the softer the clouds look, the less wind, but more rain may be expected. Fog is an indication of fine weather; so is dew.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements. "The Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, esse nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Night Cure—fluid—a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well the "Night Cure."

THE THREE-PIECE SUIT.

With This Woman Is Filly Gowned for Any Occasion.

The three-piece afternoon suit counts in making the girl or woman who owns a really smart one ready to appear fitly gowned at almost any function. For the young girl not yet through school the range of suitable styles is quite limited. For her this suit should consist of a coat and skirt of cloth, velveteen or corduroy in a plain, becoming color. If velveteen or the corded velvet is selected a skirt of semicircular style or plaited in groups is preferable to other models. The coat may be tailored with the rounded corners that are the reigning style or one of the newer kimono models. Immature figures frequently look better in the fuller, more house-like models, while the tailor-made type of girl looks her best in the severe lines of the strictly tailored cut and finished costume. If the color is becoming and the suit is made upon proper lines, even the plainest style will be becoming this season, especially when the attractive, copenhagen and other bright light blues and the rose and coral shades are so much worn by the younger set.

Velveteen and corduroys wear excellently, and are particularly pretty in browns, sapphire blues, dark greens or reds. The very fine cords are reckoned smartest this year, and either of these velvets will be suitable for school use another season.

TO PRESERVE PAPER PATTERNS.

Fold Them Flat and Place in Large Envelopes.

On account of the inconvenience of getting wrinkled tissue paper patterns into the envelopes in which they have been purchased, it is better to fold them flat and place in large envelopes in which magazines or large catalogues have been received. The directions can be preserved by cutting the envelope which came with the pattern down one side and across the bottom and pasting it on the large envelope. In this way the directions can always be conveniently referred to, and there is space on the reverse side of the envelope for notes as to changes needed in the pattern for different members of the family.

Envelopes of uniform size can be made to hold patterns by taking a piece of stiff cardboard about the size that would give sufficient space for directions, and lay it on wrapping paper, folding the edges of the paper over in imitation of the large envelopes, and paste, leaving one or side open, as preferred, but do not fold so tight as to prevent the cardboard from being easily slipped out. Small envelopes to hold seeds can be made in the same manner.

TO WEAR IN THE NURSERY.

Pinafore Peculiarly Adapted for Needs of Lively Youngster.

A pinafore such as this will prove attractive to any child for nursery wear; it is easily slipped on, and the large pocket in front will be a great delight for stowing toys, etc., in. In may be made of linen in any pretty shade, and the embroidery worked in outline in a contrasting color, such as green on pale pink, brown or olive-green on blue, red on dark blue, etc. The pocket has the rabbit worked in the center, and at the top is a deep-shaped binding of linen, the color used for the embroidery. A frill of the linen finishes the neck.

Material required: About 1 1/2 yard linen for a child four to six years.

Motor Car and Shopping Bags. There is nothing strikingly novel in shopping bags at the present moment. The fitted automobile bag is being favored for this use more than the regular shopping bag. Pigskin is conspicuous in this form of shopping and automobile equipment. Some of these are noticeably large and the majority are fitted with all the toilet requisites, notebook, card case and change purse.

Cloth Skirt with Darker Coats.

Deontanes of the smartly dressed set are affecting the sheath-fitting empire skirts of cloth, with directoire coats in half-length in a deeper tone than the skirt, but of the same material. The coats are semi-fitting, with plain backs and calaway fronts. The collar and cuffs only are elaborated, these being of embroidered velvet or brocade.—Vogue.

Lace Collars.

The handsome and most expensive of the stiff collars have Irish lace insertion used in a sort of conventional design. While these collars may be very beautiful, they are less satisfactory than are the hand-embroidered collars, for the lace will not hold the starch and constant heavy washing wash tears the fragile material.

KEEPS THE SHOES IN SHAPE.

Feedstore Man Shows His Customer a New Wrinkle.

A pale clerk departed with a large paper bag of oats under his arm. "No," said the feedstore man, "he don't eat 'em for breakfast food. He uses 'em for boot-trees."

"Oats for boot-trees?" "Sure. Every night, as soon as he gets home, he takes off his wet and muddy boots, laces 'em up, and fills 'em with oats. What happens? The oats, like blotting paper, absorb all the moisture out of the leather and swells accordin', plumpin' the boots out splendid, restorin' 'em to their original shape, takin' every wrinkle away."

"So, in the mornin', the man empties his oats back into the bag, and, no matter how slushy yesterday's walkin' had been, he now puts on a pair of perfectly dry, new-lookin' boots."

"Yes, I do quite a city trade in oats," ended the feed man. "Clerks and typists, male and female, all such as can't afford made-to-order trees—they cost, you know, ten dollars a pair—are loanin' to use oat trees in sild. Shall I put you up a pair in this here bag? Five cents is all."

With Allowance.

There is an editor in a little New York town who has a well developed streak of gentle humor and a fondness for gardening. Not long ago his man of all work left him, and the editor advertised for some one to fill his place. Among the applicants for the position was a man who seemed to know his business thoroughly, but who failed to produce references as to character when requested. Moreover, his eyes were somewhat shifty.

"You say you have no references?" the editor asked.

"No, sir, I have not," the man replied in a tone of humble pride; "but I think, sir, that you will find honesty printed on my face."

The editor smiled a little. "Well—er—perhaps," he admitted; "that is, allowing for typographical errors."—Sunday Magazine.

The Loafers.

"The right sort of man," said the sportsman, "can go out hunting day after day and not care whether he gets anything or not."

"I knew a number of the wrong sort of men who feel just that way."

"You do?"

"Yes, but what they are supposed to be hunting for is work."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Clothes For Men That Suit In Style And Price

SOMETIMES a man will be attracted by a garment that suits his taste admirably but is just a little too high in price or perhaps a trifle too cheap in quality. The result is he's disappointed. This condition isn't apt to occur here, because we carry such an immense variety of styles in such a varied range of qualities that you're pretty likely to be able to select a pattern to your liking at just the price you intended to pay. If you're going to buy a suit or top coat come and see if we can't suit you in both style and price. Prices range from.....$10.00 to $30.00

WOMEN'S SMART NEW SUITS

THE selling of women's tailored suits has commenced in earnest. We were really surprised at the number of suits sold this past week. However, it goes to prove that our garments must be right in style and price and that the tendency of the people is to buy early while the selections are complete. We would be pleased to have you come and look at our new line whether you're thinking of buying or not.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. TRIAL BY BREAD AND CHEESE.

Old-Time Primitive Way of Convicting Suspected Criminals.

There were many odd ways in ancient times of detecting criminals. Our ancestors had not lived long enough to lose their faith in the workings of conscience, and divine interference in earthly justice was superstitiously regarded as a daily occurrence.

No queerer example of this could be found than the ancient mode of trying prisoners by bread and cheese. The unfortunate offender was led, with a halter round his neck, to the parish church, and there in the presence of the people the priest put pieces of cheese and rye bread in a patten on the altar. These he blessed and then the supposed criminal had to eat them dry before the congregation.

If he managed to swallow them easily he was acquitted, but if he choked he was condemned. Naturally enough scores of innocent folk were thus done to death.—Pearson's Weekly.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, is quickly changed to feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot.

The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oftentimes weakens the Heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by J. H. Swan.

BOMB FOR OFFICERS

UNION SQUARE, NEW YORK, IS SCENE OF "RED" OUTRAGE.

ASSASSINS SUFFER MOST

Man About to Throw Explosive Is Mutilated and Companion Is Killed—Four Policemen Wounded.

New York.—The Haymarket tragedy of Chicago was almost reenacted in Union square Saturday when an anarchist who graduated from the ranks of socialism attempted to hurl a bomb into Capt. Reilly's squad of policemen. The bomb exploded in the hands of the assassin, who was probably mortally wounded. A companion of the anarchist was killed instantly, four policemen were wounded, and scores of persons near by were struck by flying fragments of the bomb.

The outrage followed the breaking up by the police of a mass meeting of socialists, many of whom carried red flags.

Bomb Thrower Confesses.

The man who held the bomb and who was about to hurl it at the squad of policemen when it exploded had his right hand blown off just above the wrist and both of his eyes were injured.

Despite his terrible injuries he was occasionally conscious during the afternoon and evening and told the police and the coroner, who took his ante-mortem statement, that he had intended to throw the bomb at the police.

He also said that he had been beaten by a policeman over on the east side about a week ago when he was trying to make a speech and he wanted to get revenge.

"Ordered to Kill."

Later he added: "I was told to do this. I bought the nitroglycerin for the bomb at a drug store at Clark street and Broadway, Brooklyn. I made the bomb myself from a piece of gaspipe."

"I have a wife and two children in Russia. I have been in the United States two years. My nearest relative is named Cohen and lives at 21 Park street, Brooklyn. I worked for a tailor named Goldstein on Eldridge street, near Broome street (Manhattan)."

The bomb thrower said his name was Selig Silverstein and that he lived at 82 Beaver, Brooklyn.

Disciples of Hunter.

Silverstein's companion was identified as Ignatz Hillebrand of 288 Third avenue, a tailor who worked for H. Beckman of 82 Prospect place, Brooklyn.

Both Silverstein and Hillebrand were followers of Robert Hunter, the Chicago preacher of socialism, and graduated from his "school" into the ranks of the Berkman-Goldman anarchists.

In Silverstein's room in Brooklyn a letter, sealed and stamped, addressed to Berkman, was found by the police. Silverstein may recover.

Silverstein was still alive in Bellevue hospital Sunday night. Though the explosion tore off his right hand, temporarily blinded him and caused frightful bodily injuries, he may survive. As yet he cannot see, but the sight of one eye may be restored.

Seven men arrested after the bomb explosion were arraigned in court Sunday. Of the number, six called themselves Russians. One of them was an American. The foreigners were held in $3,000 bail each for further examination, while the American was held without bail. They are charged with taking part in a riot.

MINE BLAST KILLS SCORES

TERRIBLE DISASTER IN A COAL SHAFT IN WYOMING.

First Explosion Snuffs Out 19 Lives, and in the Second Many Rescuers Perish.

Cheyenne, Wyo. — Between 55 and 70 men lost their lives in two explosions in coal mine No. 1, owned by the Union Pacific Coal company, at Hanna, Saturday. The explosions were caused by gases and coal dust and each was followed by fire.

The first explosion occurred at three o'clock, when 18 mine workers, including a superintendent and three bosses, were killed. The second occurred at 10:30 o'clock at night, snuffing out the lives of from 40 to 50 members of a rescue party, including State Mine Inspector D. M. Ellis.

The wildest excitement prevailed Sunday in Hanna and at the mine, where hundreds congregated, including widows, children and other relatives of the victims. When the second explosion occurred additional appendages were telegraphed to all surrounding towns for assistance. One train was rushed west from Omaha, carrying officials of the Union Pacific railroad and the Union Pacific Coal company.

The bodies of four of the 18 men who lost their lives in the first explosion were located Saturday night, but owing to the increasing volume of gas, which threatened to explode at any moment, no effort was made to remove them to the surface.

Fire started in the colliery last Sunday, since which time attempts at regular intervals have been made to extinguish it. Saturday it was deemed unsafe to send the miners down into the workings and they were notified not to report for duty. Superintendent Briggs, with a team of picked men, the best and most experienced hands in the camp, went into the mine to fight the fire, but at two o'clock the flames had got beyond their control and at three o'clock the fire connected with the walled-off gas and a terrific explosion followed. The victims are all below the tenth level and it is likely that the flames consumed the corpses.

A second explosion occurred at 10:30 at night in the east shaft, where a gang of 50 relief workers under State Mine Inspector Ellis were about to remove four of the victims of the first explosion. The shaft was filled with debris and all air currents cut off.

The second explosion was more severe than the first, being felt in all parts of the town, and it is feared that 50 or 60 names have been added to the death list. Miners and citizens rushed to the east shaft, where they were joined by the relief workers who were driven from the west shaft, which was also caved-in by the explosion, and all set to work to dig out the entombed men. Penetrating a short distance the rescuers came upon James Case, who was lying unconscious in the level. He could tell nothing about what happened inside, as he was badly injured.

It is feared that all the miners were either killed outright or smothered by the after-damp. As all were volunteers and their names were not taken when they entered, a list of the victims of the second horror will not be available until a house-to-house canvass of the camp is made.

CONGRESSMAN SHOOTS NEGRO.

Hefflin of Alabama in Desperate Affray—Wounds Another Accidently.

Washington.—In a desperate affray on a Pennsylvania avenue car Friday night, a negro and a white man were shot by Congressman Thomas J. Hefflin of Alabama. Thomas Lumby, the negro, was shot in the head and is in a critical condition, and Thomas McCreary, a New York horse trainer, is suffering from a wound in the leg. The shooting of McCreary was accidental. Mr. Hefflin was arrested and taken to the Sixth police precinct station where a charge of assault with intent to kill was placed against him. Later he was released on $5,000 bail.

Mr. Hefflin rebuked the negro for drinking on the street car and the latter is said to have made a motion as if to draw a pistol.

Aldrich Bill Is Passed.

Washington.—The Aldrich currency bill was passed by the senate Friday by a vote of 42 to 16, in the main a party vote.

Previous to the taking of the vote on the Aldrich bill a vote was taken on the Bailey substitute, authorizing the government, instead of the national banks, to issue the emergency circulation for which the bill provides. The vote on the substitute stood 42 to 13, and this vote was entirely partisan, even Senator La Follette casting his vote with the Republicans.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

DR. HILL NOW IS ACCEPTABLE

KAISER RECALLS ALL EXPRESSIONS OF DISAPPROVAL.

Causes President Roosevelt to Be So Informed—Statement from the Berlin Foreign Office.

Berlin.—Emperor William, having been fully advised as to the attitude of President Roosevelt and the feeling of the American public in regard to the alleged refusal of his majesty to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador to Germany in succession to Charlemagne Tower, has recalled all the expressions of disapproval he recently sent to President Roosevelt and would be pleased to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador.

The emperor has caused this view to be communicated to President Roosevelt.

The German foreign office has sent to the Associated Press the following official declaration on the subject:

"The notices which have appeared hitherto in the foreign press in regard to the Hill affair have originated in the erroneous impression that it was intended in Berlin to recall the approval given here last autumn to Mr. Hill's appointment. This has never been thought of. It is true that doubts subsequently arose as to whether Mr. Hill would feel himself comfortable in the post of American ambassador to Berlin, but these doubts have been removed, so that nothing stands in the way of Mr. Hill's nomination to the Berlin embassy, and he will be welcome in Berlin now, as he would have been before, or as any other unobjectionable representative would be who should be named by President Roosevelt."

"It is to be stated emphatically that throughout the whole incident the ambassador, Mr. Tower, has not swerved for one instant from the straight line of absolutely loyal and honorable conduct, both toward his own government and the Imperial German government."

500 MAY BE DEAD IN QUAKE.

Two Cities and Three Towns Are Completely Destroyed.

City of Mexico.—Two cities and three villages completely destroyed, and a number of villages and towns badly damaged is the result of the earthquake throughout the Mexican republic. The cities destroyed are Chilpancingo and Chilapa. The villages are Concepcion, Tetitilla and Coatepec, each having a population of 1,000. Chilapa has a population of about 12,000, while Chilpancingo has 8,000. The greater part of Chilapa burned.

Estimates of the dead vary. It is known that between 200 and 300 persons lost their lives in Chilapa alone. At Chilpancingo reports say only a few lives were lost and that aid has been sent from there to Chilapa.

In the villages so far as heard from Saturday there are only a few scattering dead. It is believed, however, that the death list will not exceed 500 throughout the republic. It may be more, and it may prove less.

In the City of Mexico 200 houses were shaken down, but no one was killed. A number of persons in the poorer quarters were badly injured. All day there were slight shocks and the people Saturday night were panic stricken, many of them refusing to sleep in their houses.

The news was brought to Chilpancingo by a runner. Government reports are minimizing, in so far as possible, news of the disaster.

HOTEL LELAND IN FLAMES.

Famous Hostelry in Springfield, Ill., Partly Burned.

Springfield, Ill.—The Leland hotel, one of the most widely known hotels in the country, and which has been the center of political gatherings for the last 30 years, was severely damaged by fire Thursday, entailing a loss on the proprietors, the Wiggins estate, of about $75,000.

The fire broke out while the Republican state convention was in session, three squares away, and when the delegates received word that the hotel was burning they leaped from their chairs, tore wildly for the doors and hastened to save their effects. No lives were lost, nor was any person injured.

The fire for a time threatened the building of the Springfield Journal, which is separated from the hotel by a narrow alley.

SEAL REPORT STIRS

VICE-PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS IS ACCUSED OF FALSEHOOD.

OTHER BIG MEN ATTACKED

Document Prepared by Prof. Elliott of Ohio Is Withdrawn by Senator Foraker and Suppressed.

Washington.—Senator Foraker Monday obtained leave to withdraw from the senate files a paper introduced by him on Wednesday last and printed as a public document, and the order carried with it the suppression of all the printed copies of the paper. His introduction of the paper last week and the withdrawal contained no intimation of the sensational character of the document, which still would be unknown had it not been for the fact that several copies had been given out before it was suppressed.

The paper was prepared by Henry W. Elliott of Lakewood, O., and purported to be "the official record of the loot and ruin of the fur seal herd of Alaska." Senator Foraker had neglected to read it.

It was not until the paper came out in printed form Monday that its character became known. It was found to reflect upon the integrity of the presiding officer of the senate and upon members of the senate and house and other government officials. It transgresses one of the established though unwritten rules of both houses of congress and caused a sensation of no small magnitude.

Passing over 30 years of the "official record" Prof. Elliott dealt with the work of the Anglo-American high joint commission in connection with the sealing question and told of an argument made by Mr. Fairbanks in opposition to a sealing bill before the senate committee on foreign relations in 1902-3, when he was a member of the committee. This paragraph is taken from the report:

"The statement of Senator Fairbanks was a untruth in every respect—a square and wholesale fabrication on his part, to defeat the pending bill. Under the circumstances, his colleagues could not dispute his false report, therefore they took no action on this bill, at his request."

MAN AND WOMAN MURDERED.

Music Teacher and Pupil Found Dead in the Woods.

Cleveland, O.—Detectives are searching Dundas woods for a missing revolver, upon which may hang a solution of the mystery surrounding the tragic deaths of Carl Bornthaler, 58 years of age, and Miss Lena Ziechmann, 30 years of age. The bodies of the man and woman, with their hearts pierced by a revolver bullet, were found early Monday in the forest in Cleveland Heights, just east of the city.

While murder and suicide first were suspected, the absence of a revolver led the coroner to declare that Bornthaler and Miss Ziechmann were murdered by a third person.

Bornthaler was a music teacher and a member of an opera house orchestra. Miss Ziechmann was a music pupil of Bornthaler, and also was a teacher of German in the public schools.

CHARGES AGAINST PINCHOT.

Chief of Forestry Bureau Is Attacked in the House.

Washington.—Charges of a serious nature against Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry bureau, were made in the house Monday by Messrs. Smith of California, and Mondell of Wyoming, during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. Mr. Smith accused him of entering into a secret understanding with the city of Los Angeles with the view of securing to the city valuable water rights in the Owens river valley as against the interests of private parties having prior claims. Mr. Mondell denounced him for, as he charged, illegally paying the expenses of forest officials in attending conventions in the west in which the government had no part, and also of spending government money to boost his bureau in the newspapers. Mr. Pinchot was defended by Mr. Pollard, Nebraska, and Mr. Scott of Kansas.

Beats His Daughter to Death.

Huntington, W. Va.—George Conrad, a farmer of Wayne, W. Va., killed his six-year-old daughter by beating her with a poker, and fatally injured his wife with the same weapon. Jealousy is assigned as the cause.

Futile Attempt to Rob Bank.

Buckner, Mo.—An unsuccessful attempt to rob the bank of Buckner was made here early Monday. The robbers blew off the outer door of the vault with nitroglycerin but were unable to open the inner door.

Indiana Express Rates Cut.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Express rates in Indiana are reduced on an average of between ten and 12 per cent. In an opinion and order issued Monday by the Indiana railroad commission. The new schedule is to be adopted by the express companies within 30 days. The total annual business of all express companies in the state is about $1,000,000, according to information collected by the commission, and the reduction means a decrease of more than $100,000 a year in the money to be paid out for express service.

The Evolution of Household Remedies.

The modern patent medicine business is the natural outgrowth of the old-time household remedies.

In the early history of this country, EVERY FAMILY HAD ITS HOME-MADE MEDICINES. Herb teas, bitters, laxatives and tonics, were to be found in almost every house, compounded by the housewife, sometimes assisted by the apothecary or the family doctor. Such remedies as pears, which was aloe and quassia, dissolved in apple brandy. Sometimes a hop tonic, made of whiskey, hops and bitter bark. A score or more of popular, home-made remedies were thus compounded, the formulae for which were passed along from house to house, sometimes written, sometimes verbally communicated.

The patent medicine business is a natural outgrowth from this wholesome, old-time custom. In the beginning, some enterprising doctor, impressed by the usefulness of one of these home-made remedies, would take it up, improve it in many ways, manufacture it on a large scale, advertise it mainly through almanacs for the home, and thus it would become used over a large area. LATTERLY THE HOUSEHOLD REMEDY BUSINESS TOOK A MORE EXACT AND SCIENTIFIC FORM.

Peruna was originally one of these old-time remedies. It was used by the Mennonites of Pennsylvania, before it was offered to the public for sale. Dr. Hartman, THE ORIGINAL COMPOUNDER OF PERUNA, is of Mennonite origin. First, he prescribed it for his neighbors and his patients. The sale of it increased, and at last he established a manufactory and furnished it to the general drug trade.

Peruna is useful in a great many climatic ailments, such as coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, and catarrhal diseases generally. THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES HAVE LEARNED THE USE OF PERUNA and its value in the treatment of these ailments. They have learned to trust and believe in Dr. Hartman's judgment, and to rely on his remedy, Peruna.

Procrastination.
Procrastination is a habit that clings obstinately. Putting off a duty is practically equivalent to performing it twice over, for the dread of it is quite as wearing as the actual work. The greatest success is attained by cultivating a plastic memory and refusing to think of a task till actually face to face with it. Then one's whole attention can be devoted to it till the thing has been completed and pushed into the background. It is the eternal dwelling upon matters that sickens the brain.

Paris French in Canada.
"Where does monsieur come from?" asked Jenn.
"From New York."
"New York? Why, I did not know that French was spoken in New York."
"No," I explained, "but I learned my French in Paris."
"Paris? Where is that?"
I explained once more that Paris was a city in the great country of France.
"Oh, yes, France. I have heard of that. Well!" he said, "decidedly it is not good French, that Paris French!" Then, evidently with the kindly intent of softening the blow, he added, "however, I can understand you."—Birge Harrison, in Scribner's.

A Night in a Strong-Room.
On one occasion a locksmith was repairing an interior safe in a strong-room of a New York bank when the cashier closed the vault door. As it was worked by a time lock it meant that the door would remain closed until the following morning. Fortunately the man knew the secrets of his stronghold, and by opening a man-hole was able to obtain a sufficient supply of air. He then made a pillow of a bag of dollar bills and composed himself to sleep until the door was opened next morning.—The Strand Magazine.

Famous Irish Hill.
From a very early date, until the sixth century the famous Hill of Tara was the chief meeting place of the Irish kings. The palace and royal banqueting hall were built on it, and visitors are still shown a pillar which is supposed to have been the ancient coronation stone. It was the site of a university, and the center of Irish learning, and a place of gathering for the Druids and musicians. Between the second and the fifth centuries it was the scene of triennial assemblies, and in 989 it witnessed a crushing defeat of the Danes.

Plenty of Trouble

is caused by stagnation of the liver and bowels. To get rid of it and headache and biliousness and the poison that brings jaundice, take Dr. King's New Life Pills, the reliable purifiers that do the work without grinding or griping. 25c at J. H. Swan's drug store.

Beware of Too Much Modesty.
Alexander Campbell, a bank accountant of New York, did such splendid work that his employers raised his wages. Campbell is a modest man. "I can't accept it," he said; "I am not worth that much." Whereupon they sent for a doctor and had Campbell examined. The doctor decided that he is insane, and the modest man was admitted at Bloomingdale hospital for the insane. Moral: Take all that is offered you. A modest violet in an insane asylum doesn't get as much out of life as the sunflower on the outside.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup—the cough syrup that tastes nearly as good as maple sugar and which children like to take so well. Unlike nearly all other cough remedies, it does not constipate, but on the other hand it acts promptly yet gently on the bowels, through which the cold is forced out of the system, and at the same time it allays inflammation. Always use Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Depths of North Atlantic.
The greatest depth determined by the Challenger soundings, which was that of a limited depression about a hundred miles to the north of St. Thomas, was 3,875 fathoms, or about 4½ miles. Except in the neighborhood of its coast lines, and in certain shoal areas, the floor of the Atlantic basin at its widest point seems to lie at a depth of from 2,000 to 3,000 fathoms, its slopes being extremely gradual.—New York American.

KNOW SOMETHING OF ARGUMENT

Daughter Mattered Little to Father's Objections

Isaac L. Rice, the chess enthusiast, whose daughter is a devotee of the motorcycle, tells a story about the way in which he was induced to buy the first machine for the young woman. Mrs. Rice and Miss Rice were in Europe at the time and arrangement had been made to ship a machine abroad, when a man was thrown from a motorcycle in New York and killed. The accident impressed Mr. Rice so that, instead of sending the desired cycle, he forwarded a letter saying that he had decided not to buy one, as he thought the sport was too dangerous. By the next mail came back a letter carrying inside a newspaper clipping with the heading, "Man Dies in Theater." With it was the message: "Now, father, do you intend to keep me from going to the theater because a man once died there?" Mr. Rice decided that argument was useless against such an antagonist.
